

petrostrat

PetroStrat Ltd is a focused consultancy group, providing specialist biostratigraphic services to the oil and gas industry. PetroStrat's main purpose-built office and labs are located in Conwy, North Wales, on the edge of the Snowdonia National Park. We opened our first satellite office in St. Albans (north of London) in July 2011 and have established office/lab facilities in The Woodlands (Houston), Texas.

We are currently seeking to recruit Micropalaeontologists and Nannopalaeontologists (Ref PS19-01)

We have exciting opportunities to further expand our skilled and experienced team of 35 biostratigraphers. To complement our current skill base we are looking for candidates ideally experienced in wellsite and routine micropalaeontology and nannopalaeontology.

The roles will require working within a team on a wide variety of analytical studies, including single or multi-well and reservoir to regional scale projects, to be undertaken either in our UK offices, overseas and at wellsite. We offer varied and interesting career opportunities and are currently active in many areas including North, West & South Africa, the Middle East, North & South America, the North Sea, Norwegian Sea, Eastern Europe, the Caribbean, SE Asia and Australasia. Applicants should ideally be qualified and willing to conduct wellsite work, both onshore and offshore. This post will involve a balanced mix of office-based analytical work and wellsite work, with excellent opportunities for career progression within an expanding and dynamic organisation which has exciting plans for further expansion.

The successful candidates will have a minimum of an MSc in an appropriate biostratigraphic discipline. Previous industrial experience, including wellsite work is preferred, but not essential as appropriate training will be given.

We offer a highly competitive benefits package, including pension and bonuses for wellsite work. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
